

ABSTRACT

Systems and methods are disclosed for a device having one or more active substrates comprising substantially transistors or diodes formed thereon; one of more passive substrate comprising substantially inductors, capacitors or resistors formed
5 thereon; a plurality of bonding pads positioned on the active and passive substrates; and bonding wires connected to the bonding pads.